Breakfast with the Birds

About Kimberley Naturally

Neil McGilp and Liz Cayzer are pioneers of Kimberley nature-based tourism. In 1990 they established Kimberley Wilderness Adventures and built it to be WA's most successful tour operator, winning numerous business and tourism awards.

After selling their interest in KWA, Neil and Liz managed tour operations, safari lodges, tourist attractions and facilities and Destination Marketing Organisations around Australia.

In 2008 they leased the Jabiru Safari Lodge at Mareeba Wetlands and developed birding tours and expanded its nature-based operations. While birding in the Kimberley, they immediately realised this was a great nature product that would appeal to nature lovers.

Description: Breakfast with the Birds is an easy-paced, small-group nature-experience. Led by Bird enthusiasts, it provides a close-up view of some of the Kimberley's rare and diverse bird species, usually including the elusive Gouldian finch. While not a specialist birding tour, binoculars and spotting scopes ensure you get great views of the birdlife and wildlife.

Guests will be picked up at their Kununurra accommodation at 6am and driven through the Carr Boyd Ranges as we make our way towards Wyndham. Pick-ups and drop-offs are also available at Emma Gorge Resort, El Questro Station. Our first habitats will seek a variety of finches as they come to drink in the early morning cool, including the elusive but exquisitely beautiful Gouldian finch.

Our shaded bush Savannah breakfast site has sweeping vistas of the Cockburn Range and the Bastian as backdrops as we sample fresh Kununurra produce and a range of local delights.

Departing for Marlgu Billabong on the lower Ord River, we view a vast range of water birds and perhaps a crocodile. Departing late morning, the Guide will refresh memories of the species seen before being dropped at your accommodation around 12.30.
